Wood furniture

- Wood displays different grain patterns depending on how it is cut. For example, the ‘medullary rays’ that can appear are a mark of good-quality timber. These are simply characteristics of the natural beauty of the wood. Some furniture is also deliberately aged and given a rustic finish.
- Wood veneers also allow distinctive patterns to be created on flat surfaces, such as table tops and drawer fronts by the way the slivers are arranged.
- All timber surfaces will change colour and mellow over time. New furniture will initially vary in shade from items that have been previously purchased.

How to care for your wood furniture

- Furniture with a hard lacquer, wax polish or painted surface should be dusted with a dry cloth.
- Spray polishes are best avoided as they contain silicones which may spoil the furniture’s surface by building up over time.
- If some liquid is spilt over the product clean it as fast as possible to avoid making stains.
- Our furniture will endure most temperatures in the home but it is best to avoid placing furniture next to heat sources such as radiators or fires. Be particularly careful with solid wood as the lack of humidity caused by central heating can cause damage such as warping.
- To keep it perfect, we recommend that you avoid sitting on it in clothes that stain.

Safety instructions

- Never drag furniture when moving it, always lift it.
- Periodically check all fixings to ensure none have come loose and re-tighten where necessary.
- Please take care when handling or moving the furniture, careless handling may cause damage or injury.
- Furniture can be dangerous if incorrectly installed. Assembly should be carried out by a competent person. No liability will be accepted for damage or injury caused by incorrectly installed or assembled furniture.
- It is recommended that before moving heavy objects to a new location they are completely disassembled to avoid personal injury or damage to the furniture. Please be careful to retain all fittings when doing this.
