VETRO

Timeless, easy to style and a nod to the warm feeling of days gone by — just three reasons why the Dutchbone Vetro is irresistible. This coffee table set consists of a larger and a smaller table that can nest together. Great for using together or separately. The tables are made from clear glass, smoothly curved from a single piece with no seams, giving a look that is both striking and elegant.

- Available in various versions
- Made from strong, clear glass
- Comes as a set with a larger and smaller table
- Can be nested or used separately

MUSH

The Dutchbone Mush coffee table instantly evokes the cosy feeling of an interior from days gone by. This is partly thanks to its distinctive shape, reminiscent of a mushroom. The soft curves are further highlighted by the glossy finish that covers the piece. In addition, the deep green colour of the mango wood adds an earthy touch, creating an irresistible and warm retro look.

- Available as a coffee table or side table in multiple sizes
- Made from mango wood with a green finish
- Finished with a glossy top layer
- Inspired by the look of a 1970s interior

BRUNEAU

With the Dutchbone Bruneau, you bring a unique combination of elements into your home. Deep tones, robust materials and geometric shapes create a distinctive look. The sturdy pieces are made from wood with a walnut-coloured finish that beautifully highlights the grain, giving a cosy 1960s feel. The clean lines and abstract surfaces provide a striking contrast to the warm material.

- Available as a coffee table, dining table and sideboard
- Made from wood with solid legs
- Finished in a rich walnut colour
- Features abstract surfaces for a distinctive look
- Adds a warm ambience to any space

HERMAN

The Dutchbone Herman perfectly balances softness and character. The deep walnut colour of these pieces evokes the feel of a 1950s or 60s interior. The visible grain adds a robust touch and a warm, inviting ambience. What truly sets these cabinets apart, however, are the wavy lines of the legs and the rounded edges of the cabinets, creating an almost tactile, touchable look.

- Available as a chest of drawers and sideboard
- Made from wood with a matte walnut finish
- Finished with rounded shapes and flowing line

DALE

The Dale vase from Dutchbone is a striking combination of organic design and practical versatility. Made from green-grey glass, its fluid, natural shape brings a touch of elegance to any interior. Perfect for holding small objects, or simply as a sculptural accent, Dale is as multifunctional as it is beautiful.

With its contemporary yet timeless aesthetic, Dale fits effortlessly into living rooms, kitchens, or dining areas, adding a subtle pop of colour and texture wherever it's placed.

MARNIX

With the right lighting, you can transform your interior into a cosy haven — a place to warm your soul. That's exactly the effect of the Dutchbone Marnix collection. Although the look resembles hammered metal, these pendant and wall lamps are actually made from mango wood. The playful texture gives a handcrafted feel, while the deep walnut finish offers a subtle nod to days gone by.

- Available as a wall or pendant lamp
- Made from mango wood in a deep walnut colour
- Finished with a playful, organic texture
- Creates a warm atmosphere both day and night

DOT

The Dot vase is a bold, modern accent for any interior. Crafted from iron, its clean lines are paired with a striking circular detail - the 'dot' - placed on the side, giving the vase its name and a distinctive character. Available in two sizes, M and L, and in elegant beige or rich bordeaux, Dot makes a statement whether displayed solo or as part of a grouping.

Its versatile design works beautifully with fresh flowers, dried stems, or simply as a sculptural piece, adding contemporary flair to living rooms, dining areas, or hallways.
